Questions for Reflection and Discussion

Mark 5:1-20

1. Take some time to think through some of the different aspects of what this demon-possessed man's daily life was like. What implications would his condition likely have had on his ability to sleep, to eat, to have a family, to interact with others, or to have hope for some type of relief?
2. In what ways had this man been "dehumanized" by the demons? How had those nearby responded to his plight?
3. Without sharing names, do you have someone in your own life who reminds you of this man? In what ways?
4. Are you ever prone to think of others in similar circumstances or with similar needs as "too far gone?" Why or why not?
5. What do you learn from this passage about who Jesus is?
6. Examine the response of the townspeople after these events. Does anything surprise you? What do you make of it?
7. How does this event in Mark 5 provide a picture of what's involved in every genuine conversion? Has this taken place in your life? How do you know?
8. Reflect on or share with others some of the things that God has done for you and how He has had mercy on you.
